Determine networking opportunities

Before you network with others, you need to identify opportunities where you can network. Follow these steps to plan for it:

1. Make a list of people or groups Fitness
These are the people and groups that would be helpful to know for business purposes. These can be potential customers or other businesses that offer complementary products or services.
2. Explain why they are good to know
Think about their work roles and how getting to know them may benefit the organisational or your personal objectives.
3. Identify where to find them
Research the events, networks, organisations, and associations where they are most likely a part of.
4. Become involved
Research how to join or attend the events and organisations you have identified.
